The same hosting account can serve more than one site. There are two different things you may want, and they are not the same:

- 1 Addon domain - a second, completely separate domain (anothersite.ao) with its own site, in the same account.

- 2 Subdomain - a branch of a domain you already have (shop.yourdomain.ao), no new registration needed.

Adding an addon domain

- 1 Register or transfer the domain first - it has to exist before it can be added.

- 2 In cPanel, open Domains and click Create A New Domain.

- 3 Type the domain. cPanel suggests a folder inside your account; accept it or choose another.

Point the new domain's nameservers to your hosting - see how to configure a domain's DNS. Without this the domain won't reach the account.

Creating a subdomain

In cPanel → Domains, click Create A New Domain and type the full name, e.g. shop.yourdomain.ao.

cPanel recognises it as a subdomain of a domain you already have and creates it right away - no DNS change and no extra cost.

How many can I add? It depends on your plan. In cPanel, the right-hand panel shows your limits for Addon Domains and Subdomains - "unlimited" or a number. If you've hit the limit, an upgrade raises it.

Each domain has its own SSL. A newly added domain gets its free certificate automatically, but that can take a few minutes to an hour. Until then the browser may warn about the connection - it resolves on its own.

Domain added but the site doesn't open? We'll check the pointing.

Type it here and find out in a second. DNS management included in the panel, renewal notices well ahead of time, and the domain registered in your name - never in ours.
